Annie Katchinska Natural Resource Economics

Annie Katchinska Jan 03 2023 Funded by Arts Council England, Faber New Poets aims to identify and support emerging talents at an early stage in their careers. Through a programme of mentorship, bursary and pamphlet publication, the scheme offers four poets a year the time, guidance and encouragement they require to help in the development of their work in the longer term. In 2010, the awarded poets are Joe Dunthorne, Annie Katchinska, Sam Riviere and Tom Warner. Midair If it all goes wrong, midair, I doubt I could put us down safely in a river. I suspect I'd slam us nose first into the circuit board of a densely populated suburb. If I could, our rescue might be beamed across the globe; stood on the wing as though we stood on water. If it all goes wrong, I doubt I could put us down.

Natural Resource Economics Dec 02 2022 Decisions about the conservation and use of natural resources are made every day by individuals, communities, and nations. The latest edition of Field's acclaimed text highlights the incentives and trade-offs embedded in such decisions, providing a lucid introduction to natural resource issues using the analytical framework of economics. Employing a logical structure and easy-to-understand descriptions, Field covers fundamental economic principles and their general application to natural resource use. These principles are further developed in chapters devoted to specific resources. Moreover, this up-to-date volume addresses the challenge of achieving socially beneficial utilization rates in the twenty-first century amid continuing population growth, urbanization, and global climate change. Topics new to the Third Edition include: □ implications of climate change on resources □ fracking □ energy intensity and the energy efficiency gap □ reducing fossil energy □ forests and carbon □ international water issues □ globalization and trade in natural resources
